

Yamaha SA 2100

Information not verified appears on one web site. This guitar was made in Japan and in Taiwan from 1985 to 1989 and was superseded by the 2100-11 but I have seen a picture of one supposedly from 1984 (details of the 1200- 11 are in the Yamaha Archives but not the 1200)

I now know that this is not accurate as the 2100 appears in the 1991 English language catalogue so the 2100-11 which was around in 1988 is just an additional model not a replacement.

I have seen a 1985 MIJ in black a 1986 MIJ in Burgundy and a 1987 MIT in Natural.

The information from the 85,87 and 88 is as below

Fret board	Bound Ebony block inlays
Radius	13.75 ins
Body	Beech and Birch alder block
Neck	Mahogany
Hardware	Gold
Pickups	2 spinex splittable see note below
Colours	Antique stain ,burgundy, yellow natural and black
Scale	24.75
Nut width	43mms

The 1991 catalogue states that the pickups are Alnico V SAH-SA1G. It could be that spinex was only used in the MIJ models and MIJ production of this model had stopped or it was just a change in specifications.

The following pictures are all of the same guitar the Bigsby is an aftermarket fit.
